Space ISAC's Eighth Annual Value of Space Summit

The 2027 Space ISAC Value of Space Summit (VOSS VIII) will bring together experts and leaders from across space, security, and threat intelligence to strengthen the secure space ecosystem.

VOSS serves as an annual forum for Space ISAC members and partners, creating opportunities to connect across government, industry, and academia; exchange perspectives; and build relationships that support the security and resilience of space systems.

BECOME A SPONSOR

Organizations looking to enhance their visibility at the Summit are invited to explore sponsorship opportunities. As a VOSS VIII sponsor, your organization can receive valuable exposure through:

- Space ISAC's VOSS social media promotions and sponsor recognition
- Logo and name recognition on the Space ISAC website
- Placement in participant tote bags through approved flyers or promotional materials
- On-site logo recognition and visibility during the Summit
- Association with a community focused on collaboration and strengthening the secure space ecosystem

Sponsorships are available to organizations regardless of event participation. Opportunities are limited and will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis, subject to confirmation by Space ISAC.

Mission

Space ISAC facilitates the global space industry to collectively protect global space systems to secure the future of humanity by strengthening cybersecurity preparedness and incident response capabilities. As the sector's primary communications hub, we deliver actionable intelligence to member organizations, enabling rapid threat identification and coordinated defensive measures across the space ecosystem.

Core focus

Space ISAC is the primary communications channel for the global space community. As an independent, nonpartisan organization established in 2019, we serve as the primary communications hub across commercial, international, defense, and intelligence sectors, operating independently of government entities.

Community

Our community encompasses trusted organizations that provide products or services to commercial and/or government customers, except those in Space ISAC's prohibited countries. In partnership with our global space partners and members, we provide space-related actionable threat intelligence and vulnerability disclosures, thought leadership, a voice at the table with the public and private sector, and a showcase for member and partner capabilities.

Don't miss this great opportunity to showcase your organization to Space ISAC members, government partners, Trusted Vendors, and the general public. Custom packages are available upon request. Spaces are sold on a first-come, first-served basis.
